Site Details

Block	106
Lot	2
Area	17,509 Square Feet
Redevelopment Area	John Fitch Way Redevelopment Area
Zoning District (2010)	Business A

Background:

Construction of the Lafayette Park Hotel began in 1999, and the hotel opened for operation in 2002. The building footprint of the hotel itself is 17,509 square feet and contains 197 rooms spread across seven stories, a 6,000 square foot ballroom that could fit about 500 people, a lounge, and a restaurant complete with a bar. Additionally, the hotel included a guests-only gym on the first floor of the building. The hotel is next to the Patriot's War Memorial Theatre, which is next door and regularly hosts events such as Trenton's Art All Night celebration and various concerts and plays.

The original building design also included 20 meeting rooms as part of a 2-story conference center. The hotel's restaurant successfully attracted employees from the various government entities residing nearby. On a Friday evening during the early 2000s, it would not be uncommon to find employees of one of the various state agencies located in the city, such as the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), the Department of Trenton's Arm and Hammer Ballpark Community Affairs (DCA), New Jersey's Superior Courts, or employees of Mercer County, as well as representatives from different state governments visiting N.J.'s capital, and members of the public in the hotel's bar enjoying their happy hour.

Additionally, the hotel was a convenient option for individuals visiting New Jersey's capital due partly to its proximity to the State Capital Complex located on East State Street and its close proximity to transportation hubs such as, the Trenton Transit Center (TTC) or the Trenton-Mercer Airport, providing guests with several travel options, both within Trenton and around the greater Tri-State area. Additionally, Trenton is one of the stops along the Acela line, connecting Washington, D.C., to Boston and stops in cities such as Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York City.

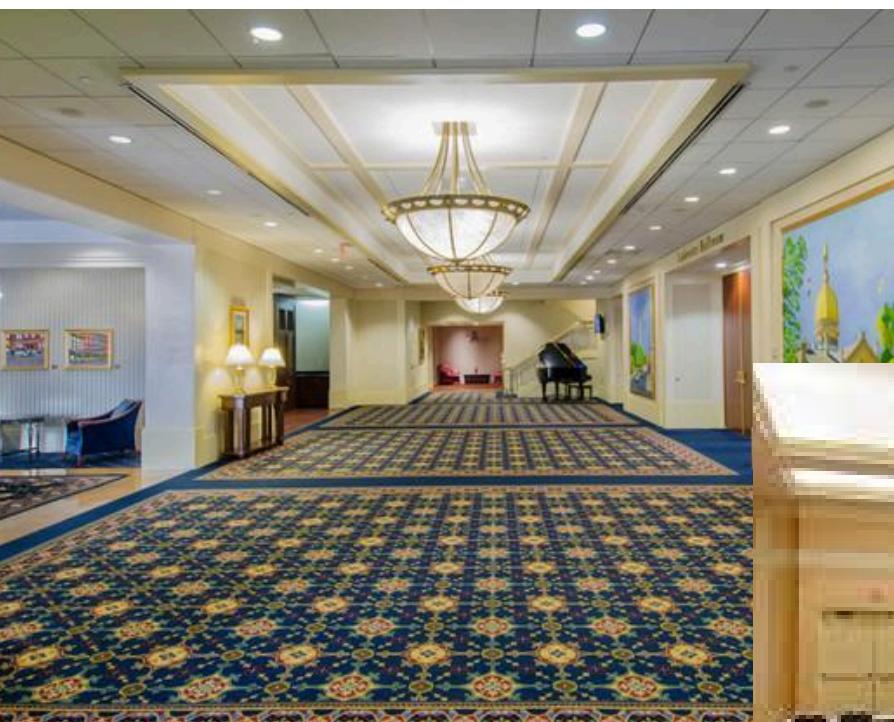

Trenton is also located relatively close to academic institutions such as Princeton University, Thomas Edison State University, and The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) and Rutgers University. Moreover, the hotel's proximity to the Trenton Transit Center allows guests to easily travel to major cities such as Philadelphia and New York City. The hotel is within walking distance of Trenton's downtown district, the Old Barracks Museum, and the Trenton Battle Monument. Trenton also holds deep historical ties that date back to our Nation's founding, given the city's involvement with landmark events such as Washington's crossing the Delaware and the Battles of Trenton during the period known as the Ten Crucial Days.

The city also hosted a stop on the Underground Railroad at the Sampson Peter's House that helped escaped enslaved peoples travel north towards Canada. Trenton also played a critical role during American industrialization, with the city acting as a major hub for manufacturing goods used in several projects around the country. One such example is the Roebling Wire Works, which produced wires used in the Golden Gate Bridge when it was built during the Great Depression.

Existing Conditions:

Respondents should be aware that the hotel was last active in 2012 and has been underutilized in the years since. Respondents should be prepared to invest resources to modernize the interior of the property to meet the needs of today's consumers. Additionally, the property sits in Trenton's Downtown area, the development and revitalization of this area has been a key objective of the City's redevelopment efforts. The hotel is also located within walking distance of several key government buildings such as the New Jersey State Senate, the Richard J. Hughes Justice Complex, and the Mercer County Superior Court. This project also serves as an opportunity for a redeveloper to serve as one of the institutional anchors of Trenton's Downtown district. The first floor of the Hotel also includes space for a restaurant, it is the Administration's hope that the selected respondent will dedicate this space as a restaurant and bar with a valid liquor license.

Preferred Development and Design

The objective of this RFP is to find a master developer to revitalize and reopen the Hotel. The City is seeking interested parties who will undertake this project while simultaneously incorporating elements from the numerous redevelopment plans released by the City such as the John Fitch Way 1 Redevelopment Area Plan, the Trenton250 Plan, the primary goal of said plan being the revitalization of the downtown area. While there are 197 rooms, there was a consistent demand for 100 room nights. We expect that a new hotel would right size the hotel portion, while creating additional revenue streams with the remaining space—these additional revenue streams could be market rate residences, extended stays, retail options or other. The ideal use for this property would consist of a mixed-use building, such projects could potentially combine the functions of a right-sized hotel with market-rate residential units, while reserving space on the first floor for commercial spaces such as bars and restaurants. Proposed projects should strongly consider using local contractors and labor during the revitalization process of the hotel. The ideal respondent will submit a proposal which successfully incorporates elements to align themselves with the City's redevelopment goals, hire Trentonians to staff their operation, and utilize local construction and labor when undertaking rehabilitation of the property. Respondents who successfully reopen a bar with a valid liquor license can successfully leverage events at the Patriot's War Memorial Theatre to attract increased business to the restaurant and bar.
